

UNLV GAMING LAW JOURNAL – Message from IMGL President

The International Masters of Gaming Law (IMGL) is a worldwide network of specialist gaming lawyers, and gaming industry regulators and professionals, dedicated to the advancement of education in the gaming industry. With over 200 General and Affiliated members in over 38 jurisdictions around the world and in over 30 US States, IMGL is an important source of gaming law for very many in the industry.

The dedication of IMGL and its members to gaming law education is now enhanced by this Gaming Law Journal which, as President of IMGL, I am especially happy to commend, since it marks an important development in IMGL's work to disseminate gaming law developments worldwide. IMGL is therefore especially pleased to be involved with the prestigious Boyd Law School in this important project.

The publication of this Law Journal adds significantly to IMGL's commitment to the enhancement of education, and the exchange of professional information, concerning all aspects of gaming law, and that it addresses gaming law issues from around the world is especially important to IMGL, given the increasing internationalisation of gaming and of gaming law.

IMGL is indebted to Anthony Cabot, a distinguished former President of IMGL, and to the IMGL members and to the other authors who have contributed to this Law Journal with such profound knowledge and erudition.
