

Is your scholarship working as hard as you do?

Simple tips for improving your online presence

This semester, the Library will host a brown bag discussion to demonstrate how faculty can retrieve, interpret, and improve the statistics on their current scholarship download counts through the Scholarly Commons and other online repositories. Join us to learn how a few simple techniques will increase your online visibility and the accessibility of your scholarship. And, discover all you can about who is reading your work, where they are, and what they might be doing with it. Please keep an eye out for the survey we will send later this semester.
